Dear Mr. Scully;

Mr. Charles Heckelmann has promised to forward this letter to you, and so I am sending it in his care.

I have recently finished reading your book, "Behind the Flying Saucers", and it goes without saying that I enjoyed it immensely. However, there was a great deal more than enjoyment, for I found that you may be the person I have hoped and prayed that I might contact some day.

Mr. Scully, I have something to tell you which will amaze you, but it is the honest truth, and I am absolutely sincere. I need advice, and I believe that if you are willing to help me contact the right people I can answer a lot of the perplexing questions about the magnetic forces, and perhaps furnish a clue as to how the flying saucers might operate.

Please let me introduce myself first. I am a gemologist, and fifty-four--day before yesterday. I have been doing research in crystallography for more than four years, and in that time I have made some wonderful discoveries. The trouble has been though, that I have never been to college, and I have no standing. I have tried at least one hundred times to present my theory to government officials, scientists etc. without any success whatsoever. They won't even read it. After trying two years I finally got the Atomic Energy Commission to read it, and after keeping it five months they wrote back and thanked me for sending it to them, and said that they had had their scientists evaluate it, and that it could not be used in the Atomic Energy Program. They did not return the theory, and I have never heard another word from them.

While I was taking my course in gemology I found a clue in crystallization which I followed up, against everyone's advice, but which has opened up a whole new world-a new universe, I might say. I later had a very wonderful divine revelation, and I saw thewhole structure of the Universe. I saw what disease is, and the degradation of matter. In those few wonderful moments I learned the science of physics. My work has all been in pure science. If you could talk to me

I believe that you would say it was the most amazing thing you ever heard of. I know that I am a chosen one-I have the feeling that I was born for this very purpose-to give this knowledge to the world. I would like to publish what I have learned, but with all the secrecy I don't know if such a thing would be wise. Yet, I know what God is like, and I know His wonderful laws. I could tell the world, but the scientific aspect must be explained too, for what I have learned brings all sciences together into focus-into one.

I know what cancer is, because I have discovered the fundamental laws that must govern all matter, yet when I write and offer my theory to Walter Winchell, or the National Cancer Institute I receive a letter in return telling me that they are not interested, thank you, or that they have qualified people doing research. The letter I had from Mr. Winchell stated that they had drawers full of cancer panaceas that people wanted money for. I certainly don't want money for this, for one could not seek to gain from knowledge such as this. I only want to give it, if they will only take it. They will never find what cancer is until they discover the same thing I discovered.

My theory fits in with the quantum theory, and I have been told that it may be part of Einstein's theory of Electro-magnetism and gravitation. I think that I have a thorough grasp of the fourth dimension, but I think that there are seven dimensions, not four.

I believe that I know what cosmic rays are, and I can explain just how I think that they occur. I have found the periodic table of crystallization, and have found that all related substances must fall into groups in this table. I know about the degradation of matter and how it works, and what age is. I am sure that I have found an anti-gravitational force, and have done considerable experimenting along these lines. I find that substances lose weight in definite periodicies. I knew from my theory that under certain conditions substances would change weight, and when I experimented I found the loss of weight.

I read with great interest in Life Magazine about the eight jet planes which crashed all at one time, for no apparent reason, knowing while I was reading what had happened, because I know that that there are intervals in time, in all properties, in which either nothing exists or all laws are at rest. I have long been sure that this is the cause of disasters, and as I learn more I am becoming positive.

I have learned how to determine the courses the magnetic forces must follow in any substance in which the crystal system can be determined. I think that beyond a doubt I can map the pattern which these forces must follow in the Earth. This, and so much more I have learned. Yet, no one will take the trouble to read my theory. Do you think that your friend Dr. "G" would be interested? Others may not agree with me, but they can not help but think about my theory, since it it is along entirely different lines. It is entirely original with me. I have had very little reference material. The Handbook of Physics and Chemistry is about the only thing except Dana's Mineralogy, and no one has helped me with it, with the exception of Mr. Frederick Dodson who made a suggestion which opened the way for wonderful new discoveries.

Mr. Dodson was director of research for the American Radiation Laboratories in Belmont, Calif. I spent one whole day with them explaining my theory. They were extremely interested, but said it was so far in advance that they could do nothing at present. I showed them a two dimensional spectrum which was my conception of the Universe. Mr. Dodson suggested that I make it up in three dimensions. This I did when I came home. He told me that I would probably find the fourth dimension, which I did, and a whole lot more--I just can't tell you in a letter how much I did find.

As I read your book, I kept saying to my self that you were the one for me to reach if possible. So many things you said made me think that you of all people would be open minded. You know so many think that if they didn't find it in a book it isn't so, but I would defy anyone to prove that my theory is not right.

You spoke of Mr. Walter Russell. I met Mr. Russell when he was here in Colo. Springs, and asked him at the time about my theory. At the time I had just found it-I had found that crystallization was universal, but all the professors said NO, it couldn't be--but it is, and I can prove that it is a lot easier than they can prove it isn't. I asked Mr. Russell his opinion, and he told me that I was right and to keep on with what I believed. I have read all of Mr. Russell's books recently and I find that his theory and mine follow the same lines. While his theory deals in waves, mine is in crystallization, but they mean the same thing.

Will you write me, Mr. Scully, and tell me what you think about what I have told you, and if you can think of anything I might do to find the right people to contact? There is so much research to be done, and although I work constantly I can't do much by myself.

Thank you for listening to my tale of woe.

Sincerely yours,

Gertrude A. Walcher

Dear Mr. Scully:

I have read and reread with more than considerable interest, your "Behind The Flying Saucers", my reaction? I take my hat off to you. It affords me the greatest amount of personal satisfaction and almost elation, to find that there is someone else who,with both feet on the ground, so to speak, can nevertheless have the courage and the vision to see and tell about things to come.

You have an advantage over me; you have lived thru and seen the evidence of all you describe; until I read your book, with me they were just possibilities molded in imagination out of what I read here and there of the different stories that found their way in the press in this area.

I dislike the scoffers and the pooh poohers, my wife is among them; she scoffs at the story of Flying Saucers and dislikes my interest in them. With you, the Air Force and the Pentagonians are your thorn in the side. It is possible that this crowd in Washington is jealous and plays down all you proclaim to gain time for some project born out of what they have learned in order to spring some supposedly huge coup on the public for which they, the Air Force will take all the credit as the originators of whatever it is they will then lay bare. These boys want the pat on the back personally; they can't get it any other way, being just swivel chair pilots.

If it is possible, I would like very much to devote the rest of my life; now age ~~22~~ 48, in some form of activity connected with these visitors from space. I am not 48 years old, but 48 years young. I can and do still handle a pick and shovel, gold panning as a hobby. I am treasurer of a photograph studio here. My education is limited as I left school at the 7th grade, but have done quite a bit of reading in physics books and so on; I am uneducated, but I am not dumb. At any rate I would like to correspond with you further on a point or two in your book I am in doubt on. I hope to hear from you.

Dear Mr. Korcsmaros:-

My daughter brought the enclosed letter up to me in the mountains and since it wasn't mailed I'd like to add a few notes which will further explain the delay. When your wire came Mr. Newton was in Washington. In fact for more than five months I have hardly seen him at all because he was working on a defense project which had him shuttling between San Franscisco and the Pentagon most of the time. I have purposely not contacted Dr. Gee or his group because they were under pressure and I wanted them to be able to say they had not talked to me until these tensions are removed. I'm afraid we are stymied. When that will be I don't known, but I hope it will be soon.

With all best wishes,

Faithfully yours,

Dear Mr. Scully;

I am writing you about your published book, "Behind the Flying Saucers". I have read the book twice and talked of it to many people all of whom are very interested in the book and the story it tells.

Myself and another fellow have long been interested in the saucers and have read most of the articles on them both pro and con. We have come to the same conclusion as you on almost all points. The one statement we can find grounds for disagreement on is the fact you stated they came from Venus. I know a lot of Astronomy and the heat on the planet would be to much to support life in any form as we know it. In your book you described them as normal in every effect in comparison with us with the exception of their height, yet they were not migets, their normal structure was 36 to 42 inches high.

Recently there was a craft seen over Mount Kilimanjaro in Africa movies were reportly taken with a telescopic lens camera, developed and privately shown. I would like to ask you if you have seen these or if you have any still shorts of them. If you have I would appreciate it if you would send me a discription of them.

Another thing if they are powered by lines of magnetic force, why is there an exhaust whenthey are seen at night. You stated in your book there was no motor in the craft. This exhaust, or whatever it is must come from something in the saucer or on the saucer.

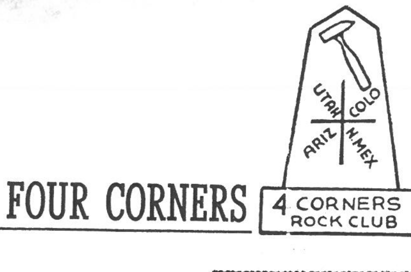

I would like to ask more questions but I know you must be swamped with inquirys so I will limit mine to the above...Thank You.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Raymond S. True

Dear Mr. Scully;

Again we implore help!

Your postal of February stated that we could soon expect a reply to our letter of last year.

Because of constant government propaganda against the flying saucers, the small minority of our Club who believe you is diminishing for want of denfinate data.

A personal friend (Major-General of the U S Army) who's hobby is meteorites and is very opened minded as to saucers,states in his opinion as the Air Force has denied their existance there is no public security involved.

Our PROJECT-to locate the landing place of the first saucer (12 miles east of Aztec, N.M.) and mark this historic spot.

As this is only 12 miles south of here, but in the wildest possible Indian country, I have not found a single trace. The time is very short before mud and snow make this land difficult to travel.

Can you supply confidentially the ranch name? Can you pin point a map? Do something for your friends?

Do reply.

Truly,

Dear Mr. Green:

We just received your letter of the 28 of July. Mr. Scully has been very ill for several months and we are now trying to restore him to reasonable health by taking refuge in the San Bernadino Mountains from Los Angeles' notorious smog.

Whatever your Major-General friend may believe, the lid is definitely on all saucerites. Because of this, Mr. Scully has had no contact with Dr. Gee at all since this policy was put into effect by Air Force Intelligence.

Therefore, it would be impossible to give you the information you desire because it can only be done with the aid of certain people whom we are not able to get in touch with.

Perhaps you will have more luck on your own. If you make any progress, please drop us a line.

Yours truly,

Dear Mr. Scully:

I hope you will forgive me for addressing you as I have. It so happens that I do not have your street address available at this vacation spot.

First of all, let me thank you for your kind words regarding "Hoppie, The Hopper". I enjoyed the description of your own "hopper" who assisted you in writing editorials some years past. As for our "Hoppie", he has, according to a recent letter from Rand McNally & Co., hopped his way up to 700,000 and promises to do well over a million by Christmas. We are all very much thrilled at the little fellow's prospects.

As to your offer to turn a flying saucer my way, may I say that I do appreciate that too! Actually, however, I believe that I would prefer (even beyond the receiving of a flying saucer, fully dquipped with push-buttons) the gift of clairvoyance which would tell me what the score is in terms of flying saucer publicity-- or lack of same. Is this subject too "cold" for most newspapers or magazines to bother about? Or could it be that it is too "hot" to handle without the proper nod from the proper direction? This angle intrigues me.

I am a Congregational minister. I admit that I have been sorely tempted to preach a sermon with some such title as "God And The Flying Saucer". Could it be that God believes that it is time for stuffy, little earth-people to stop thinking of themselves as the center of the universe and begin thinking in bigger and better (and truer) terms? Perhaps one thing which would help us to free ourselves from the crippling phobias of these trying times, would be such a revelation of other and more capable minds and moral natures. This might well be hard for us to take, but I am sure it would be very good for us. God is much bigger than most of us think he is. And, in some ways, we are much smaller than most of us think we are! --- You see, I could stir up quite a sermon on the subject, if I got started!

Thanks again for your kindly letter.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Scully:

Reading the 75th Annual Report of the Chemical Scientists where I see their "conservative estimate" puts us on the moon before long reminds me of our saucer friends. And with Vultee given a firm govt contract to develope an atomic aircraft I'm definitely expecting to ride up there in person some day. If you can stretch out another 25-50 years you'll be aboard!

Did you read about the one-legged pilot (last week's Post) who is exploring the rising air on the lee side of MT Whitney in a pressurized oxygen-equipt glider and is sure of eventually reaching 90,000 ft with no engine at all? Gliding is my favorite sport, but 20,000 ft is my limit just now!

Bill Dorsey and I would like to come by some day and see what's cooking with saucers. Most of the other fans around here have gone back to fly for the service and I hear very little about the subject.

Best Wishes to You Both,

Bob Pike

Dear Mr Wyszynski;

As you probly diden no, Pop left for NY and Chicago a week ago. (It rhymes, but its way out of meter) Anyway, the Scully Saucer came to an abrupt halt in front of the editorial offices of Henry Holt & Co, 257 4th Ave New York City, NY, and can be reached at that address while undergoing a few navigational repairs and refueling.

Around October 1st, a plate like object with Pop and Mom Scully in the pilot and co-pilot seat will descend on the otherwise peaceful city of Chicago. There, Pop will address the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults. When Mom and Dad get to Chi, I'm sure you'll be looking each other up.

It certainly is encouraging to see that the Air Force is finding out it doesn't pay to sit on the truth for long -- without getting painfully bitten.

Daddy Scully is in NY with Mama Scully and sister Sylvia, who is an entering freshman at Smith College. And I'm trying to keep up with the avalanche of letters that pour in every day. If there's any time left over after letter writing I attend class at UCLA.

Dear Mr. Scully,   Sept. 23,1951

It has been some time since your book "Behind the Flying Saucers" has been published and one small article in the Pageant Magazine remarking about different people's acceptance of the book.

I am a Flying Saucer fan and I am rather anxious to know more, if there is any. I bought your book and was responsible for the sale of several more because of my enthusiasim on the subject. I have been ridiculed and made fun of because I believe such things could exsist. I don't mind, really, but I would like to know what is happening. That is, within reason. Surely there must be more. Your book leaves many questions unanswered even to me, just an ordinary John Q. I don't go in for reading fantastic science fiction stories but I would like to believe what you wrote as being true.

I have been watching the Book stands for another of your books on the Flying Saucers,but todate I have not been able to find any. However, I found a copy of "Other Worlds" science fiction October issue carrying an article by a Captain A.V.G. that claims he flew in a Flying Saucer. You may have read this, if so, I am anxious to read your comments.

What really brought about my writting this letter was, I loaned out "Behind the Flying Saucers" to a friend and now I am getting the"business"again. I am just trying to get more information so that I can argue with more assurance.

I will be anxiously awaiting your reply and any information that will help me in my discussions.

Dr. Frank. Scully,
Hollywood, Calif.

Dear Dr. Sully:--- As I have been within 2 feet of a "Flying Saucer" and had a good square look at one--- seen two sets of wings revolve in opposite directions. ane wing ducking under the other, and the other ducking over the other, or one set of wings standing still and the other revolving in an ocean-wave fashion?

From a mechanical standpoint, their would have to be circular track, with tracks crossing each other (note drawing) ball and socket joints attached to mechanism on central spindle, geared so that two sets of wings would revolve in opposite directions so that wings would pass under and over----Upper set of wings can remain stationary, while lower can revolve on ocean wave principal, following track, or alternate. Or entire set of wings revolve helicopter fashion, in the same direction, or opposite.

I did not see the mechanism of this particular "Flying Saucer" but seen the movement of the wings as above described. The wings appeared fan shaped, while in "slow mothion" and appeared as a "ball of fire" at high speed. Reflection on the ground and trees appearing either blue or reddish. Therefore I have tried to figure out just how the mechanism would have to work, in order to create the movement of the wings---which I believe is a NEW principal in aerodynamics! (Pay no attention to miss-spelled words?) (Dr. Einstein, dosent!)

I did not note any exhaust or propelling force in connection with this Saucer----One set of wings appearing "Fire blue" the other "Fire red" a very beautiful and magnificent combination, as they revolved, and the "Saucer" flitted about the premesis.

A terrible storm was brewing, rain and hail about the size of hens-eggs, which destroyed crops about a mile wide and I7 miles in length. It destroyed a $5,000,00 wheat crop for me, and other farmers crops in the vicinity.

I was sitting at the east window looking out, when this "Saucer" came in about 8 feet above the ground, between the house and the barn, and stopped for a second, and then darted right up against the east window. I was within two feet of it. I had about two seconds to observe the wings and their movements, and also the appearance of a hand, which seemed to becon for me to come out, as I understood it. Frightened, I ran out on the porch, which was roofed and screened in, and really got an eye full. Their were two Saucers, about Ioo feet of each other, which flew slant ways arround an orchard and dissapeared. The storm subsided, and turned east, traveling a distance of about I4 miles, destroying all crops. The Saucers appeared to be about 3o to 4o feet in diameter. Casting a lightning glow in the yard, and on the buildings, trees and etc.

The Big Question----"What were these saucers doing accompanying the storm, and giving me a good look at them? This happened July. Ist, I924. A. D.

From this observation, I think the "Pentagon" and our "Flying Saucer Scientists" had better do some more figureing, on just how "Saucers" operate?

I do not believe the "Brain of Man" can fully figure out these "Chariots of fire" that Angels traverse the Universe in. (Wheel within a wheel.)

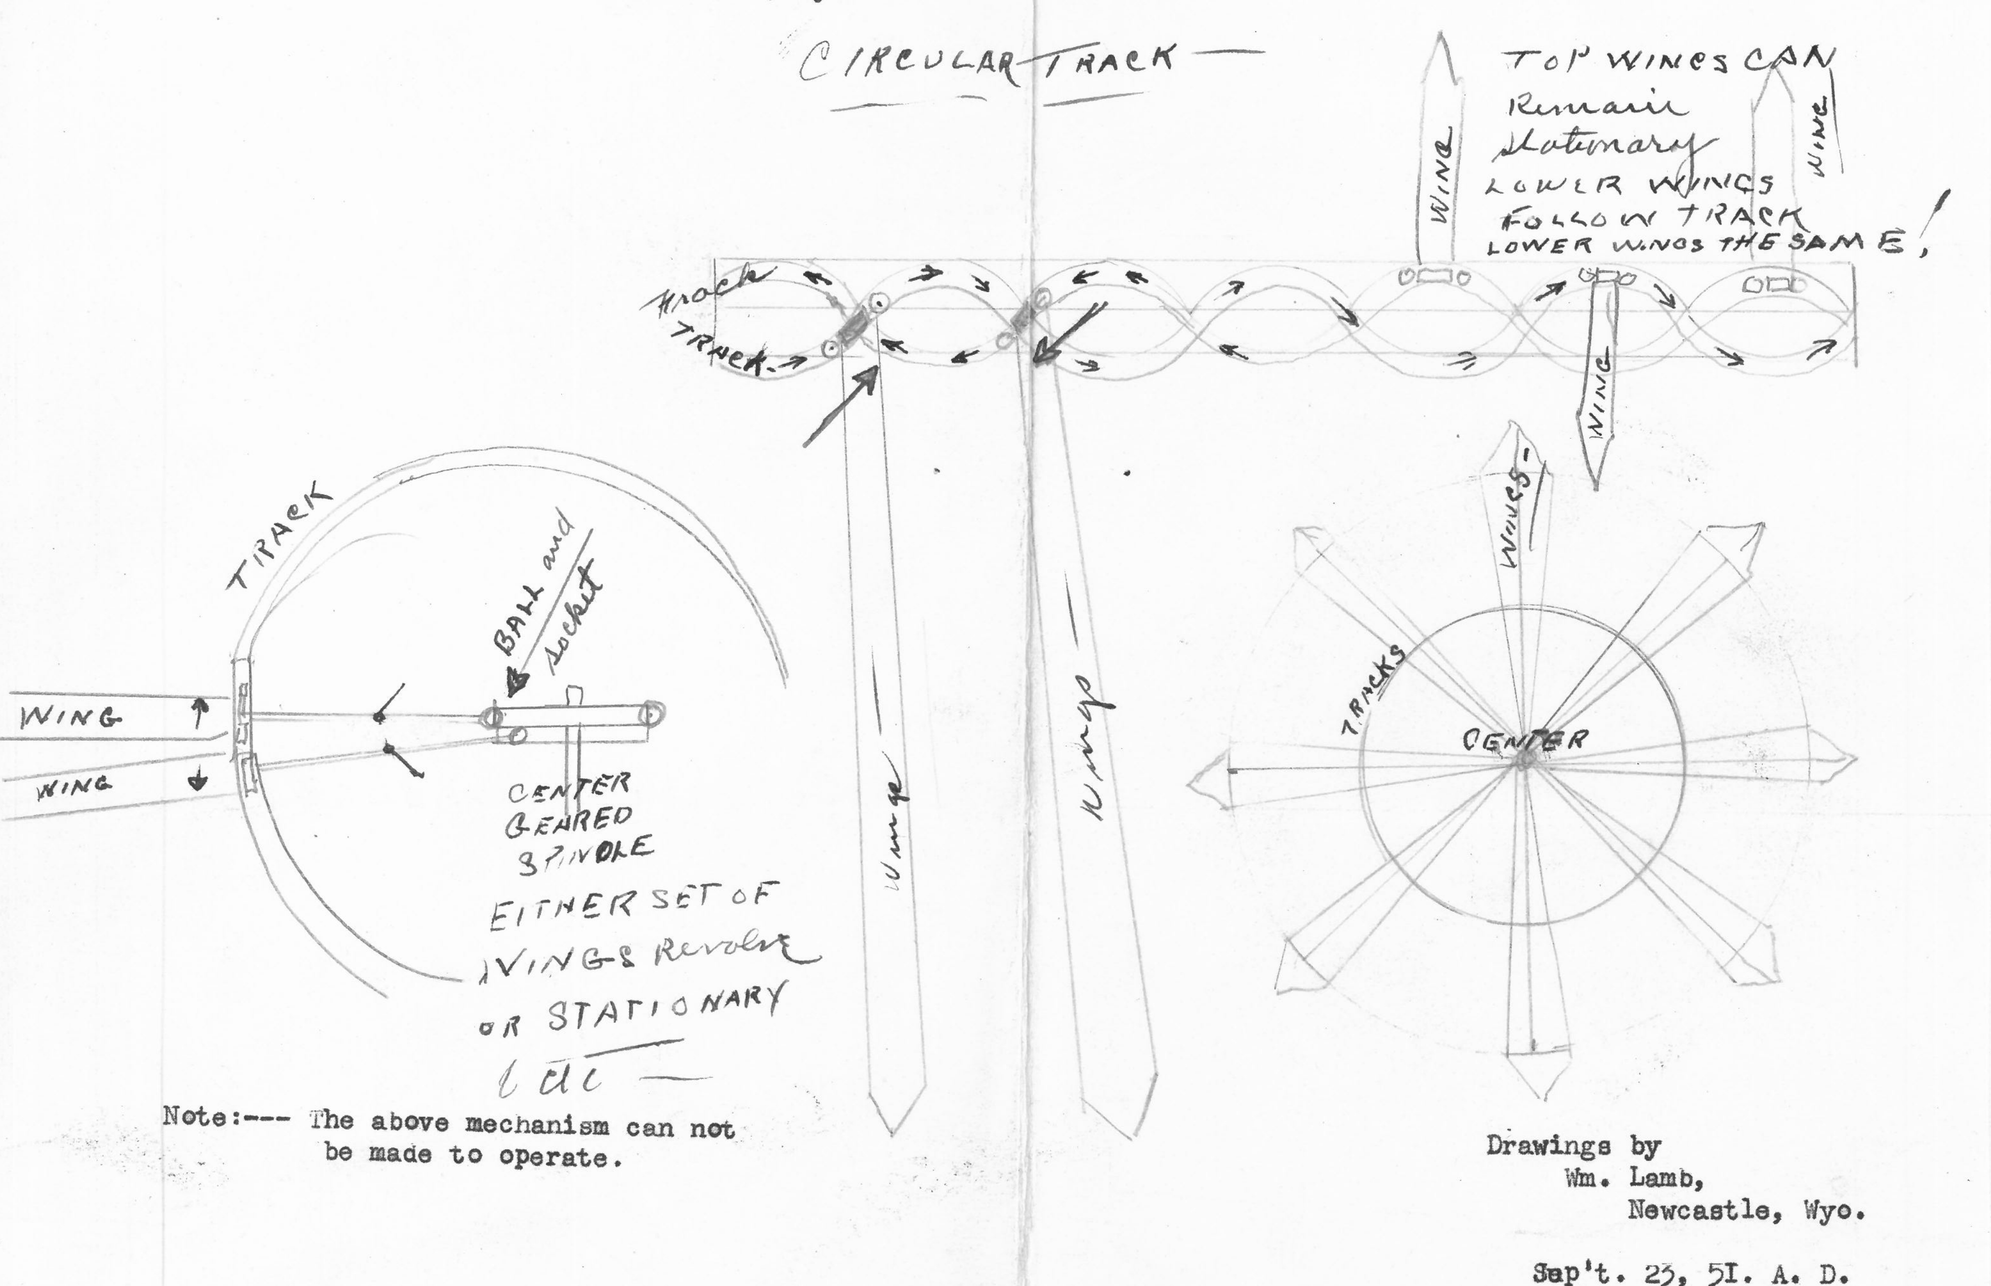

Glad to have you figure it out, and have your answer?

Very truly Yours,

Since my last letter to you in April, I notice an oacasional news item about flying saucers. In your reply you mentioned that you would try to get some text book titles on magnetism from Dr. Gee. My latest acquisition by Maurice Rubin, copyright 1951, isn't very revealing.

I am trying to get organized to conduct some magnetic research experiments based on a little known and not generally accepted theory.

Any information you can send my way in regard to both magnetism and flying saucers will be greatly appreciated.

Dear Mr & Mrs Tedrick;

Thank you very much for your letter and your copies of "WORKING IN HIS CAUSE".

My father will be very happy to hear that you have enjoyed his books so well. It is rare praise indeed for an author to have his book placed second only to the "BIBLE" in reading popularity.

As for the copy of "Talk of the Times" which you paid for and was not mailed, I will have to ask Mr Scully when he returns from the east coast, whether there is anything that can be done about the situation. I would suggest your writing to the magazine, and asking either for a copy of the magazine your ordered, or a refund of your money.

Dear Mr Lamb;

Thank you very much for your letter of Sept 23. The incident you related was certainly an interesting one, and my father will be quite surprised when I show him your letter.

As you may know, Mr Scully is in the East conferring with publishers, delivering lectures, and attending the National Society of Crippled Children and Adults convention, whene he will be the principal speaker at their annual dinner on Oct 5.

It is revealing to note that saucers of some kind have been observed by you as early as 1924. However, the drawings you included depict a saucer which is powered mechanically, which is certainly unusual.

Thanks so much for the letter and diagrams, and I'll bring them to Mr Scully's attention when he returns.
